ARRESTED AT YORK

"Duster" Pittenturf Beats up two Constables and is Generally Disorderly. Recently Discharged from Eastern Penitentiary.

When Constable H. K. Fickes and Augustus F. Woltman attempted to arrest James Pittenturf, at York, shortly before 6 o'clock Friday evening they were both beaten severely over the head with a billy and had to call upon the police department before they could land their man in prison. Three patrolmen, Smith, Wilt and Knaib, had to beat Pittenturf into submission before they were able to take him into custody.

The warrant upon which Pittenturf was arrested was issued by Alderman Amig upon information made by Harry Strickler, who had been assaulted Friday afternoon. It is said, during a quarrel over a game of pool.

When Strickler made the information he told Constable Fickes that Pittenturf was a bad man. To assist in the arrest Constable Woltman was obtained. The two officers called Pittenturf to the door at his boarding house and both grabbed for him. It became apparent that he meant to resist and one of them drew a billy, which Pittenturf snatched from the constable's hand and began to use it on them. After pushing away the constables and felling them a few times, he laughed at them and wanted to know whether any more would come before he was ready to go back to his room.

At 6 o'clock the telephones at police headquarters began to ring and there were five calls for patrolmen at 200 North Beaver street in as many minutes. Twenty minutes later Pittenturf was in the city prison. Friday night Pittenturf, who is also known by the name of Meyers, told Chief Bush that he did not remember having had a fight with anyone. He told the chief he had come from Gettysburg to York with his wife some time ago to make a man of himself. Until Tuesday he was employed at the Keystone foundry, but he was laid off with other men because their services were no longer needed.

Three warrants were served on Pittenturf at police court this morning. Detective Fickes, before Alderman Amig, and Detective Woltman, before Alderman Owen, have brought against him charges of resisting an officer and aggravated assault. In addition to these is the warrant sworn out by Strickler before Alderman Amig, on which the constables tried to arrest the prisoner.

Pittenturf bears an exceedingly bad record here. He has served a term in the Huntingdon Reformatory and about eight years ago was convicted of burglary and another serious offense for which he was sentenced to a term of 7 years in the Eastern penitentiary, being discharged last summer. He remained in Gettysburg until a few weeks ago when he was married and went to York. In view of the seriousness of Pittenturf's former record he will most probably receive a heavy sentence this time.

GAME INCREASING

Game, song and insectivorous birds of all kinds have increased very materially during the past year, according to the annual report of the Board of Game Commissioners. The benefit to the commonwealth, says the report, from an economic point of view is very marked.

Pheasants are more plentiful. Turkeys have had a good hatching season, and in sections of the state where they are found at all are more plentiful than usual. Quail appear to have increased all over the state, and in some sections they are very plentiful. There is no doubt at all about the very material increase in deer and bear and rabbits in that territory where they are located.

ADAM FOUTZ

Adam Foutz died at nine o'clock this morning at his home on Stevens street aged 69 years and 9 months.

Mr. Foutz was a life long resident of Gettysburg. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Foutz, deceased, his father being a native of Germany. For thirty years Mr. Foutz was janitor at Gettysburg College and had always been widely known among former students at that institution. He served one term as a member of the Gettysburg town council. His wife, who was Catherine Klingel, and four children preceded him in death.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at one o'clock from his late home where services will be conducted by Rev. J. B. Baker. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

WAR COLLEGE TO COME AGAIN

Army War College at Washington will again Send Officers here to Study the Battlefield. Will Camp on Field for Ten Days.

Gettysburg will again have the annual visit of a detachment from the Army War College at Washington this year.

The Regular Army officers will come as usual by way of Antietam riding here the entire distance and studying the battlefields en route. It is expected that some time will be spent at Gettysburg the officers camping on the field.

The instructors who will accompany the officers will be largely the same as in other years and many of the men who have come to be well known in Gettysburg will be among those who will camp here with the other officers who make the trip for the first time.

It is likely that the War College detachment will arrive the latter part of June or the beginning of July and will stay ten days or two weeks. They will be accompanied by a detachment of colored cavalrymen.

It will be remembered that at the time of the July encampment last year it was between these troops and the Virginia militia that the trouble during the early part of the camp took place.

ANOTHER GOOD ONE

"The Man of The Hour" delighted a fair sized house in Walter's Theatre on Friday evening. The play proved one of the best offerings of the local season. It was Gettysburg's first experience with a political play and it was well received, a competent cast filling the various parts most acceptably.

NO PLACE FOR A CONVENTION

Cumberland Valley Firemen's Association Hunting a Place to Hold their Annual Convention. Gettysburg Company a Member.

The Cumberland Valley Firemen's Association of which the Gettysburg Fire Department is a member is hunting a place for holding its annual convention and demonstration in May. Up to this time no town has been selected.

A meeting of the executive committee of the association will be held in the near future to arrange for the annual event and Greencastle and Martinsburg, West Virginia, are the only places mentioned as probable selections. Neither of these is putting forth any active effort to secure the attraction.

The association is made up of all the fire departments in the Cumberland Valley and in past years the meets have been very enjoyable affairs, the parades and contests being big drawing cards and thousands of people being drawn to the towns for a day or two. The convention never lasts longer than two days but while it lasts is made a good one.

Local business men seem to favor giving the firemen an invitation to come here this May and action looking toward that end may be taken in the near future.

MORE RAILROAD ACTIVITY

The Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg Railroad Company Wednesday made application to the Maryland Public Service Commission through Mr. Allen O. Clephane, of Washington, for permission to issue $3,100,000 in 5 per cent. bonds, $425,000 in preferred stock and $100,000 in common stock, the latter issue to be increased to $3,100,000, as the demand for years in construction purposes may arise. The commission is holding the application under consideration. The suggestion has been advanced that the railroad as projected may be used by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in handling its through freight business between the North and South. The line would connect with the Frederick division of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Littlestown, thus providing a direct line between Philadelphia and Washington, with Baltimore left out. The plans as prepared by the new railroad do not contemplate a connection with the Pennsylvania, but with the Baltimore and Ohio at Hayattsville. A delegation of residents of Carroll county, Md., appeared before the commission and endorsed the application of the Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg Railroad Co., and construction rights, and to the right to issue stock and bonds.

STORAGE PLANT FOR BIGLERVILLE

Hustling Upper End to Get Big Three Story Brick Structure for Storing of Apple Output. To be Built this Year.

A large three story cold storage plant with a capacity of twenty five thousand barrels will be the next acquisition to Biglerville's list of industries. The plant will be built during 1911 and will cater to the trade of the Adams County apple belt.

The project is in charge of D. N. Minick, of Chambersburg, and will erect a substantial three story brick structure about one hundred feet square. It will be located along the railroad in Biglerville immediately south of the Walter planing mill.

The plant will be for cold storage purposes and nothing else. The storing of apples for the market will be the principal business and as noted above 250,000 barrels will be the capacity of the plant.

In addition to having a successful future as a business enterprise the plant will be a great help and convenience to the rapidly increasing number of large and successful fruit growers in the county.

BROUGHT THE TEARS

The New Haven, Conn., Union says: There were tears in the eyes of many a Civil War veteran at Foy auditorium last night when Capt. James T. Long delivered his famous lecture on the battle of Gettysburg under the auspices of the Hospital corps. C. N. G., and Admiral Foote post. G. A. R. Practically all the G. A. R. veterans were present as well as ex-Governor Weeks, Col. Geddes and Major Townsend and Gen. Greeley.

The auditorium was crowded when Commander Keyes introduced Capt. Long to the audience and when the veteran advanced to the front of the stage every veteran was on his feet and cheering the lecturer, the ovation lasting several minutes.

Capt. Long's lecture was a moving presentation. He is a magnetic man and makes his war story a real living actuality to all his hearers, in a word he almost physically put and portrayed the battle so vividly that it seemed a thing of the present.

After the lecture the captain was tendered a dinner by J. H. Scharff and several friends and spent today looking over the city, leaving at 2 o'clock for Noroton where he will address the residents at the Veterans' home tonight.

WEATHER PREDICTIONS

Otis G. Baughman, of West Middle street claims that he observed the first snow this winter on November 4 instead of November 29 as is generally credited. ## MAY DISCONTINUE DEMONSTRATIONS

So Many Model Orchards being Established in Adams County that it may be Necessary to Discontinue Public Work.

State Orchard Inspector Ernest F. Peirce is at present engaged in visiting the numerous model orchards of Adams and York counties in the interest of the fruit growers, who have made requests for help in fighting insect pests and the San Jose scale to Prof. H. A. Surface state zoologist. Mr. Peirce is finding much difficulty in making the rounds, so large is the number of model orchards becoming, and there is a possibility that the orchard to orchard inspection may have to be permanently discontinued.

The model orchards in this county are as follows:

Gettysburg—William H. Bigham's Sons, H. M. Keller, C. E. Tawney and R. H. Wibbe.

East Berlin—L. B. Lau, Henry B. Jacobs and John R. Kuhn.

Fairfield—George F. Sites.

Biglerville—R. E. Lupp.

New Oxford—Mrs. Camille N. Weaver.

Cashtown—J. D. Mickle.

Littlestown—S. S. Mehning.

Abottstown—H. V. Rahn.

Jack's Mountain—E. H. Snyder and Son.

Mr. Peirce also inspects two orchards in Adams county owned by John S. Hollinger and D. H. Guise, of Emmitsburg, Md.

The apple growing business in this section will be pushed forward in the spring, when thousands of trees will be planted in Adams county.

Many farmers are preparing to start new orchards and those who planted trees a dozen years ago are pushing the matter as much as they can.

Among those who will set out fruit trees on a large scale this spring is the Oakwood Fruit Company of near York Springs which will plant an additional hundred acres, which adjoin the big fruit farm which now contains about 17,000 peach and apple trees.

C. W. Gardner has purchased a twenty three acre farm near that town which will be dotted with apple trees as soon as the bluebirds sing. C. L. Lerew will plant twenty acres in apple trees on his farm near York Springs. J. O. Goehnen has now eighteen acres in twelve year old trees and will add twenty eight acres to this tract, which contains about 1,200 apple trees, by May 1. G. C. Stock will plant the entire sixty acre farm which he recently purchased in peach and apple trees.

All these are in the neighborhood of York Springs. Other sections in the upper end of the county will witness the same activity.

SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her Look Twenty Years Younger

Read Mrs. Herrick's Sworn Statement

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF MONROE, ss.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl, I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my school mates, and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. As I grew older, my hair commenced to come out, just a little at first, but gradually more and more, and then began to turn gray. I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy to try a bottle. My hair was quite thin and gray when I began using Sage and Sulphur, and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, being thicker, darker and more glossy than it had been for a long time. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is now as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now far finer since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is still in splendid condition.

Witness my hand and seal this 10th day of July, 1910.

WIFE LOOKS FOR REUNION WITH SCHENK

Despite Divorce Talk, She Expects to Go Back to Husband.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, whose trial ended in the jury hopelessly deadlocked at 11 to 1 for acquittal, predicted a reconciliation with the husband which she was accused of poisoning.

"I have received the keys to my house," she said, "and the next thing for me to do is to go home and get things in order. After that the others matters will follow."

"In spite of all that has been said about divorce, I expect John, the children and myself will all be together again."

She declined to discuss her counsel's allegation in court of a bribery fund intended to procure a verdict of guilty.

Prosecutor Handlan said he would move for a retrial before Judge H. C. Harvey in Brooke county, holding it practically impossible to secure another jury in Ohio county.

The opinion is current in Wheeling that in view of the fact that the jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal from the first ballot, Mrs. Schenk will never be tried again.

ATTACKS LORIMER

Cummins Says Bribery Story Was Not Fabricated.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, continued his speech in the senate in arraignment of the majority of the committee on privileges and elections that exonerated Senator Lorimer, of Illinois.

The Iowa senator said that many efforts had been made to show that the story of White, one of the Illinois legislators who confessed accepting bribe money, was fabricated, but that his story had not been disproved. He declared that there was not an incident in the whole chapter of crime and corruption at Springfield that was not in harmony with White's story.

"It is not possible for the human mind to fabricate such a story as told by White," declared Senator Cummins, "unless refuted by the circumstances and facts. There were too many persons introduced and too many events recited covering a great period of time for that story to have been an invention. Where did Mr. White get the $50 that he deposited in St. Louis if he did not get it for voting for Senator Lorimer?"

"The testimony shows that he deposited the money in St. Louis and that he afterward made a pleasure trip south. This seems like a joyous trip in shameful celebration of a dangerous and profitable enterprise."

NO CLUE FOUND TO ARNOLD GIRL

Father Believes She Met With Foul Play.

RECEIVES MANY LETTERS

Two Demanding Money Were Turned Over to Police—Girl Canceled Engagement Day She Disappeared.

New York, Jan. 28.—With the father protesting his belief that his daughter has met with violence and the police insisting that the family was withholding material facts of an intimate nature, the search for Miss Dorothy H. C. Arnold, the young society woman who disappeared on Dec. 12, after leaving her millionaire father's home at 108 East Seventy-ninth street for a shopping tour on Fifth avenue, made no more real headway than at any time since it started, more than six weeks ago.

No definite, dependable news has come to the family, but letters by the score are pouring in.

Francis R. Arnold, father of the young woman, said that he had received two threatening letters, both demanding money.

"Both of the letters are plainly from criminals," Mr. Arnold said. "One of them is evidently from an ordinary blackmailer. I attach some importance to the other, for the man who wrote it seems to know something about what happened to my daughter. Both letters are postmarked New York city."

Believe She Met Foul Play.

Mr. Arnold turned over both the letters to his lawyers, Garvan & Armstrong, who have had charge of the search for the lost girl. The reason he thought one of the letters important, Mr. Arnold said, was because he is firm in the opinion that his daughter has met with foul play. "She has either been kidnapped—or murdered," he said.

One of the letters asks for $5000. It is written in German. It fails to display the usual marks of the work of a sane, sensible kidnapper and appears to be the work of a crank.

A man, whose name the lawyers do not divulge, says he saw a girl he believes was Miss Arnold on a Pennsylvania ferry bound for Jersey City on Thursday.

His story is to the effect that a young man was with her and that they conversed in German, the burden of their conversation being that they were going to Philadelphia.

"We have remained here long enough," the young woman's companion said.

The girl's family place no great credence in this clue. Still they are having it followed up, and as a result every hotel and boarding house in Philadelphia is being thoroughly canvassed.

One of Miss Arnold's friends, Miss Elizabeth Henry, who was graduated from Bryn Mawr with Miss Arnold in 1905, said in reality only a very few of their mutual friends knew of her disappearance until the news was published Thursday.

Canceled Engagement.

Dorothy Arnold was to have called on Miss Henry, according to the latter, on Dec. 12, but canceled the appointment by telephone, giving the excuse that she had to get some gowns and was going shopping.

She invited her friend to go with her, but Miss Henry declined.

On the following morning Dorothy's mother appeared at Miss Henry's home and asked her if she knew where Dorothy was. When told that her daughter's chum had absolutely no knowledge of her whereabouts, the mother's perturbation increased, and Miss Henry says she begged her not to tell Dorothy's other friends that she had disappeared.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 28.—The Reading school authorities are investigating the cause of an epidemic of sneezing among the pupils of the fifth grade school taught by Miss Rosa Ernst. ## LOST MAN FAST IN GLAZIER Glimpse 500 Feet Into Crevasse of Ice Reveals Prospectors' Fate.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 28.—A special from Valdez, Alaska, says: Five hundred feet down a crevasse in the great Valdez glacier have been discovered the bodies of six burros, making up the pack train of a party of eastern prospectors, who started for the Copper river country from this port thirteen years ago and were lost.

W. H. Cray, traveling over the glacier, made the discovery. The depths of the crevasse were momentarily illuminated by the sun as Cray crossed it and he caught sight of the burros.

With the aid of his binoculars he saw the bodies in a perfect state of preservation, equipped with pack saddles and packs. He could not discover any human bodies, but it is believed the owners of the pack train also perished in the crevasse, and an attempt will be made, as soon as the weather moderates, to learn whether such was the case.

WIND WAGON KILLS MAN

Newspaper Man Mortally Injured by Propeller of Freak Auto.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 28.—Lloyd J. Iredell, business manager of the Allentown Chronicle and News, died at the hospital from injuries received from the propeller of a wind wagon.

The car was being demonstrated on the streets, and, being wind driven, by means of an aeroplane propeller instead of shaft driven, attracted Mr. Iredell's curiosity. He took a ride in it and, stepping out, stooped to brush his clothes, when the still rapidly revolving propeller struck him, causing a triple fracture of the left arm and a compound fracture of the skull.

115 MEXICAN TROOPS KILLED IN A TRAP

Rebels Lost Two Men in Three-Day Fight.

San Jose, Mexico, Jan. 28.—Details of the massacre of federal troops under Colonel Dorante received here show that he lost 115 men when his soldiers were led into an insurrectionary trap near Ojinaga. The revolutionary loss was two.

P. S. McCombs, a Seattle, Wash., man, was in battle with the insurgents. He says he killed four federal soldiers during the engagement.

The federal soldiers were entrapped in the mountains, and for nearly three days were under fire of the insurgents. The insurgents captured thirty-two Mauser carbines and nineteen wounded men.

The beaten government troops retreated in disorder to Coyama and entrenched themselves. They made no attempt to cross the mountains to their headquarters at Ojinaga; only 150 soldiers remain at Ojinaga and an attack is hourly expected.

After the battle the insurgents returned to replenish their supply of ammunition. They returned to the mountains. Their announced intention was to go to Coyama and attack the remaining federalists there.

Hustling the Clergy.
A newspaper man once connected with a journal in Denver was one day in conversation with his chief when a clerical looking gentleman entered the office.

"Sir," said he gravely, "I intend next Sunday to preach a sermon upon football, and it has occurred to me that an enterprising paper like yours would be pleased to have my manuscript. I have no doubt that any number of your readers would be glad to read it."

"All right, all right," interrupted the busy editor, "but you'll have to hustle it along. Get it in early—early, mind! Our sporting page is the first to close."

Anticipation.
The new maid seemed eminently satisfactory, but the mistress of the house thought a few words of advice would be just as well.

"And remember," she concluded, "that I expect you to be very reticent about what you hear when you are waiting at table."

"Certainly, madam, certainly," replied the treasure. But then her face lit up with an innocent curiosity.

"May I ask, madam, if there will be much to be reticent about?"

PACT DAZES REVISIONISTS

Surprised at Sweeping Tariff Changes.

A BLOW TO FARMERS

Placing Food Products on Free List Has Lined Up East Against the West in Congress.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The capital is full of dazed statesmen. They are staggered by the sweeping character of the tariff changes proposed in the reciprocity agreement with the Canadian government, and are asking themselves what the administration's political motives are in introducing so sweeping a proposition.

It seems to be a case, once more, of the east against the west. The west wants tariff revision, but as a rule it does not want Canadian competition in food products. Tariff revision to these interests means revision of the cotton and woolen and rubber and other manufacturing schedules. It does not mean free wheat, free oats, free poultry, free eggs and the other things which the northwest produces.

Farmers Oppose It.
In other words, the voters of the northwest are mostly farmers, and farmers, any more than woolen manufacturers, cannot be expected to vote to lower the prices of the goods that they produce themselves.

Progressive western statesmen are placed somewhat in a fix by the arrangement, because they are all supposed to be tariff revisionists, and yet they cannot raise their voices in a glad shout over a proposition to overwhelm their constituents with Canadian competition. So they content themselves with the statement that they have not "had time to study the agreement with care," and that it "is a matter of such importance that no hasty opinion should be expressed."

It is unlikely, however, that the progressive northwest will be very much more enthusiastic over the agreement after it has meditated fully upon it than it is now. The suspicion has already been expressed that it is a scheme solely for the benefit of New England.

Pleases New England.

All New England is heartily in favor of the agreement. New England gets free codfish, free halibut, free food supplies in general and free lumber, while it secures free or almost free entrance for all its manufactured goods into Canada. The Massachusetts demand for something to lower the cost of living is met.

Western congressmen are not lacking who privately accuse President Taft of a disposition to reward his New England stalwart supporters and at the same time punish the western insurgents by forcing upon them a measure which will have large elements of unpopularity among their constituents.

At the same time the manufacturing middle west will be favorably interested in a proposition which gives greatly decreased duties on the part of Canada on agricultural machinery, automobiles and other articles. The rapidly developing Canadian northwest wants American machinery and American automobiles. Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin manufacture these things now in enormous quantities.

It looks as if one effect of the Canadian agreement will be to set the manufacturing west against the agricultural west, and precipitate the final struggle between the opposing interests in this country.

Everybody recognizes that a great issue has been raised, which will command attention to the exclusion of the petty questions that congress has thus far been wrangling over at this session, and that some of the declamatory statesmen have got to search their souls deeply within the next few weeks.

Four Lost in Shipwreck.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 28.—A wireless message from the pursuer of the wrecked steamer Cottage City, which went on the rocks off Cape Mudge, B. C., says: "Pilot and three on a raft are missing." The dispatch is interpreted to mean that all have been accounted for except the pilot and three of the crew.

Doubt About New Jap Trade Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Despite rumors it is considered improbable that there is to be an early initiation of negotiations between America and Japan for a new treaty of trade and commerce. The state department said it was not possible to tell whether such negotiations could be undertaken this year.

Sentenced For Mormon's Murder.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 28.—Juan Parra, Secundino Parra and Soferino Pena, charged with killing Mrs. James Mortensen and M. Coax, a Mormon colonist, Monday, were found guilty of murder. Two of them were sentenced to be shot and the other to life imprisonment. Sentence is suspended.

FORCE ADMIRAL TO RESIGN

President Orders Secretary Meyer to Retire Officer Under Cloud.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Rear Admiral Edward B. Barry, former commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, has resigned "for the good of the service."

His resignation was accepted, to take effect Friday. This action was taken with the approval of President Taft and was announced by Secretary Meyer after the cabinet meeting. His resignation will completely separate him from the naval service and he will draw no pay from the government.

Admiral Barry's resignation follows charges of a sensational nature preferred against him by officers of his fleet. They affected his personal habits and were unprintable in detail.

BLIND GIRL EXPECTS TO BE SECOND MESSIAH

Lapses Into State of Coma as She Predicted.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 28.—After asserting that in four days she was to become the second Messiah and would have her sight restored to her, Miss Margaret Shipley lapsed into a state of coma at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Halderman, McKeesport.

Miss Shipley, who is twenty-five years old, has been almost blind since childhood. It is said Miss Shipley has been able to discover the special sign of persons brought into her presence, and as a result of her visitors her fame has spread rapidly.

Miss Shipley said she had received a message telling her to attire herself in white. She later received a message telling her that on the fourth day of her fast she would become as one dead, and that physicians and undertakers would be called. Her instructions will be followed, and Mrs. Halderman will not permit the ministrations of physicians or undertakers. According to the young woman, she has talked in a strange tongue and has been told that she will become "equal to Jeremiah, the prophet."

OIL TRUST STRIKES BACK

Brings Suit For $250,000 Damages Against Magazine Publishers.

New York, Jan. 28.—The Standard Oil company brought suit here in the United States circuit court for $250,000 damages against the Broadway Publishing Company, Incorporated, publishers of Hampton's Magazine, and Cleveland Moffett, the magazine writer.

The current issue of Hampton's Magazine contains an article in which it is alleged that subsidiaries of the Standard Oil company sell glucose to confectioners.

"The only possible connection between the Standard and the manufacturers of glucose," said counsel for the Standard, "is that two men who do make glucose are on the Standard directorate."

So far as recalled the Standard Oil company has never brought suit before against any of the many publications that have attacked it.

Born Without Tonsils.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 28.—Physicians at the Homeopathic hospital in this city were surprised when it was discovered that Earl Banks, of New Castle, was born without tonsils. The lad was being prepared for an operation, and Dr. D. Roman, of the Hahnemann hospital, of Philadelphia, the operating physician, stated that this was the first case of its kind on record.

Woman Killed; Son Held.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Josephine Bell was shot and killed in her home here. Her fifteen-year-old son is being held by the police for examination. Mrs. Bell was shot with a small rifle, and the lad and his mother were the only persons in the house at the time. The boy said the gun was discharged by falling to the floor.

Thieves Get Minister's Team.

Phillipsburg, N. J., Jan. 28.—A horse and carriage belonging to Rev. C. H. Powers was stolen from in front of the Calvary M. E. church.

WILL NOT HEAR BOYCOTT CASE

Only Contempt Charge Against Labor Men to be Argued.

END OF LONG STRUGGLE

When Informed of Agreement Between Stove Company and A. F. of L., Supreme Court Announced There Was Nothing to Decide.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The "boycott" case of the Bucks Stove and Range company, of St. Louis, against the American Federation of Labor came to a dramatic close in the supreme court of the United States when that body decided it was a moot question, and one that it would not hear.

Then the court proceeded to hear arguments on the "contempt" case which arose out of the "boycott" case.

The court arrived at the conclusion that the "boycott" case was moot, or one leaving nothing substantial to be decided, when attorneys on both sides, being questioned, informed the court that an agreement had been entered into between the company and the Federation for the settlement of their disputes.

Chief Justice White announced that the court considered that this left nothing but the question of costs to be determined and that nothing remained for the court to enjoin if the case was passed upon finally. It was said that the case could not be considered simply to determine who should pay the costs.

The contending forces started their fight to determine the legality of the "boycott." That was in the supreme court of the District of Columbia. But when the contest was renewed before the supreme court of the United States the main issue had been crowded out of the limelight by an incidental one.

The burning issue was whether the principal officials of the American Federation of Labor were to go to jail on charges of contempt of court. This phase of the case will continue for oral argument.

Because they failed to obey the injunction issued by the District of Columbia supreme court in the original case, Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation, is under sentence to serve twelve months in jail; John Mitchell, vice president of the Federation, to serve nine months, and Frank Morrison, its secretary, to serve six months.

The opening argument was made more spectacular than usual by the presence in court of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, as well as other labor leaders.

The argument was started, before the court decided not to hear the case, by J. J. Darlington, who first took up the "boycott" case. The "boycott," he said, had originated as the result of a strike of forty out of seventy-five employees of the Bucks Stove and Range company, at St. Louis. In reality, he declared, the object of the "boycott" was to require the company to unionize its shops.

Beginning of the Case.

The Bucks Stove and Range company was selling stoves and ranges throughout the United States at the time the suit began. It complained that the American Federation of Labor and its members were conspiring to ruin its business by means of a boycott.

The court was particularly asked to restrain the American Federation of Labor from printing in its official organ, the American Federationist, the name of the company as being on the "We don't patronize list."

The supreme court of the District of Columbia issued the injunction. The court of appeals of the District modified the decree in several ways, the chief modification being based on the holding that the injunction against the publication of the company's name on the "We don't patronize list" should be effective only when the publication was "in furtherance of such a boycott."

The attorneys for the American Federation of Labor contended that each one of the defendants had a right to refuse to patronize those who dealt with the stove and range company and therefore they could combine in refusing. It was said that what was lawful for one was lawful when done in combination.

Before the injunction of the original court had been passed on by the higher court the Bucks Stove and Range company complained that Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison had violated its provisions by commenting publicly on the effect of the injunction. They were brought into court and held to be in contempt.

It was then argued in their behalf that the lower court had not issued a valid injunction, and that they could not be punished, therefore, for disobeying it.

Lives After Train Goes Over Body.

Sellingsville, Pa., Jan. 28.—Seven-year-old Annie Larshaw was struck by a train and thrown from the cow catcher to the track between the rails. The locomotive and cars passed over her body, but the child escaped with a scalp laceration. Her presence of mind in keeping still until the train passed saved the girl's life.

A Disgusted Super.

Sir Henry Irving used to tell a story of a super who had to rush on the stage and give the announcement, "My lord, the king is here!" Thinking that the man might be afflicted by stage fright, Sir Henry instructed him to shout out the words at the top of his voice. When the cue came the proud and obedient super rushed forward and roared stentoriously:

"My lord, the king is here!" "Ha! What sayest thou?" cried the famous actor, which happened to be the next line of the play.

A look of intense disgust and disappointment crossed the super's face, and to the delight of the audience he blurted out indignantly:

"Oh, you 'eard right enough!"

The manager of a furniture factory says that if women realized the value of soap and water there would not be so great a demand for furniture polish.

But soap and water must be used with judgment, as strong soap is injurious to furniture.

This is his recipe:

Make a tepid suds of Ivory Soap; dip a cloth in it, squeeze and go over the furniture several times. Polish with a chamois cloth.

There is no liquid that will absorb odors more quickly or completely than milk. On this account it is well to keep the stable sweet and clean, free from manure odors, the smells of roots or silage at milking time as well as free from dust, which will get into the milk if it is stirred up.

The trap nest enables the poultry keeper to learn just what each member of the flock is doing; hence the point in question is not whether it will pay to bother with them, but whether one can afford to confine stuffed high priced food into boxes which do not pay for their winter keep.

THROW OUT THE LINE

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Gettysburg People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Line"—
The kidneys need help.
They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.
They're getting worse every minute.
Will you help them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beidler, 1 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I am just as willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was two years ago, when I publicly told of my experience with them. I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble and all my efforts for relief were unavailing. The kidney secretions also caused me much annoyance. Pains often shot across my body and my health was all run down. Hearing so much about Doan's Kidney Pills,
I was led to get a box at the People's Drug Store and gave them a trial. They cured me and I have since enjoyed good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.
Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York,
sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Proper cooking will not make a roast from a sixteen-year-old farrow cow as toothsome as a cut from a two-year-old Angus steer, but it is an important factor in the preparation of meats for the table, whether poor or good. To get the most out of a roast it should be put into a piping hot oven.
This sears the outside and retains the juices, which would stew out with a slow fire. To have a roast properly done—pink in the middle—it should be cooked fifteen minutes for every pound it weighs. This will make the outside cuts thoroughly done and the others just right for those who like rare cuts.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

PIG FEEDING METHODS.

Importance of Water and Exercise in Getting Results.

Keep your pig on his feet sufficiently after a meal till he has digested his food in his stomach, says Professor Dietrich of the Illinois experiment station. That means to give him exercise.
Keep your pig running around in the barnyard picking over manure. Make him run to the back end of the farm looking for more food. It is not good practice to feed him all he will eat anyway. Keep him hungry so he will keep awake.

Water is of greater importance than dry feed—corn, for instance. It costs

agriculture.

The large Yorkshire breed of hogs is noted for extreme length and depth of body, from which can be taken large pieces of meat suitable for bacon. They are not as broad as the large type of hog across the shoulders, backs and hams. While not early maturing hogs, they are rapid growers and thrive well on pastures. They are good breeders, good mothers and produce large litters regularly. The illustration shows a good two-year-old sow.

practically nothing where corn costs a great deal of money. That means we should feed the pig water. Here, again, is one of the answers to the question why the fall pig does not prove so profitable, simply because the weather is cold. The cold weather does not allow the pig to drink enough water. He loses his appetite for water and won't drink enough when you give him dry feed and turn him loose at the water trough.

If the pigs won't drink enough water make the feed into a slop and make them drink it. In summer we have the other phase of the trouble—they drink too much. The fact they drink too much in the summer is not as bad as the fact they drink too little in the winter.

Nine-tenths of all the scrubby pigs and runts are so because they are overfed and not fed properly. They are often overfed on protein. There is no quicker way to make a runt or crippled pig or to kill him in fact than to overfeed him on protein. Yet it is absolutely necessary to feed your growing pigs on protein. When they are full grown they do not need much protein.

I have spent a good share of the past six years at the station working out how to feed properly. We have published part of it in circular form—circulars 126 and 133. They give the quantities according to maximum gain for meat, when pigs are being fattened for market. One should never feed more than seven-tenths of a pound of digestible crude protein per 100 pounds live weight, between six and seven-tenths pounds for pigs going to market to have them finished at eight months old. In the case of pigs for breeding purposes I think they should be fed one-tenth less, never getting above six-tenths of a pound.

The amount of water necessary is also given in these circulars. A pig that is started at two months of age at weaning time should have twelve pounds of water for every 100 pounds of pig.

Have you thought to empty the spray tank and drain the spray pump carefully? If not you have probably got some trouble ahead.

GRANGE TO MEET

The Adams County Pomona Grange
No. 61 will hold its first quarterly meeting for the year 1911 in Hunters-town Saturday afternoon and evening, Feb. 11. The afternoon session will be public. All are cordially invited to be present and take part in the discussions of the following questions:
"Should our schools be centralized, if so, how can it be done?" "How has the compulsory school law affected our schools?" "Is the distribution of government seeds of any benefit to the farmer?" "How would a parcels post benefit the rural communities?" "How can the Grange be used to supply the social needs of the farmer and his family?"

"The evening session will be private when the fifth degree will be conferred in full form."

FINDS NEEDLE IN THIGH

A needle that is believed to have been swallowed several months ago by John, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Embly, of near Waynesboro, worked its way down to the child's leg, where it was removed by the boy's mother. Thursday, while the little fellow was being dressed by his mother, she noticed a small red pimple in the child's left hip. Mrs.
Embly examined it and was surprised to find the end of a needle. She pulled it from the leg and found it measured one and a half inches in length.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Walter D.
Sheely, who departed this life Jan. 29, 1910.

Call not back the dear departed
Anchored safe where storms are o'er;
On the border land we left him,
Soon to meet and part no more.

Far beyond this world of changes,
Far beyond this world of care,
We shall find our missing loved one,
In our Father's mansion fair.

By his mother and sister.

SLEEPLESSNESS

Its Cause and Remedy.

Do you know what it is to lie awake nights, fidgety, restless, tossing about, counting 100 backwards, or sheep jumping over a fence, all in a vain endeavor to lull yourself in slumberland and get the rest which you so much need.

No one, unless they have been troubled with insomnia, can begin to realize its horrors and how wearing it is.

In nine cases out of ten it is simply a case of overworked nerves or derangement of the digestive system.
Thousands of such cases are being cured by Vinol. As proof we quote from a letter recently received from Marion, Ind.

"I could not sleep nights, was run down, nervous, had no appetite and was all discouraged. Vinol made me well after all other remedies had failed. I sleep splendidly, and have gained in strength." Mrs. L. E.
Heinlein. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

We ask every person who suffers from sleeplessness or who is nervous or run down to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not help them. Vinol contains no drugs or oil, and agrees with everyone. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Beales, proprietor, Gettysburg, Pa.

HOW TO RAISE PLUMP SQUABS CHEAP.

German specialists declare squab flesh its own digester, thus you need not linger long on the edge of a squab potpie fearing gastritis, enteritis or appendicitis, but may gormandize and then thus apostrophize—

O peptonoids, Jamaica ginger,
Stomach bitters, bismuth, too,
I've downed a squab pie two feet square,
But do not feel the need of you!

Are squabs too high for potpie?
Well, read our squablet sermonette.
It's hot off the griddle from a back lot squabbery where the finest are raised easy and cheap.

The loft is an upper room (20 by 12)
of a stable; the fly, hung in the air outside, is seven feet long, three feet wide and three and a half feet high.

The entrance is in center of twenty-foot partition, the nests ranged on each side of door.

There are two sash doors, three feet square, one in end, the other opening into fly, and both low down.

Thus no draft strikes the nests, though these glass doors are open except in severest weather.

Fifty pairs of working homers are kept, not for fancy, but, oh, you plump squabs!

Nearly every nest contained eggs or squabs. The birds were breeding so

A WORKING HOMER.

fast that some nests contained four squabs, latest addition and the preceding pair being fed at the same time. The average pair has fourteen squabs a year, and of the dozen dressed for dinner nope were under a pound.

In this squabbery there are no fads, no feed wasting hoppers, but the methods are so simple a boy may succeed.

Every day the room is cleaned.
The year round bath is placed in fly outside. Whitewash is applied frequently to keep down vermin; the nests are cleaned, limed and new tobacco stems supplied as soon as squabs get active.

Drink, grit, oyster shell and a cake of rock salt are kept before the birds.

DANDY ONE POUND SQUABS.

and the following feed mixture, prepared at the local mill, is used:

Thirty pounds cracked corn, twenty-five pounds red wheat, ten pounds kafir corn, five pounds Canada peas.

The birds are fed morning and afternoon, enough being always on the floor for breeders and for feeding squabs. Note sample squabs. This small plant does wonders, and here is the explanation: Good working homers, clean cozy quarters, rational feeding, no fads.

DON'TS.

Don't forget that experience is the best teacher and practice the best preacher.

Don't use lime on the dropping boards. It spoils fertilizer and is a lung paralyzer.

Don't fail to paint the roosts often with coal oil and have the droppings fall on plaster or dry soil.

Don't neglect to clean up droppings often. It saves putting Biddy in a cotton.

Don't claim you have the best flock of homs on earth. Remember it's 25,000 miles in length.

Don't fail to feel the hen's crop at night. It shows if you are feeding heavy or light.

It takes something more than a peddler to furnish assurance that a given animal is worth anything for breeding purposes. In the same way a boy can come from a pretty good family, yet be an all round scrub and no account. Many an animal sold at stock sales at a price a trifle above an everyday commercial basis should be sent to the block instead of being entrusted with the highly important duty of becoming the sire of future breeding animals.

AN IMPORTANT SEARCH

By ALENE EDNA MAY

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Those cases of poisons found in the stomachs of the dead," said the detective, "with the consequent conviction of some one who is charged with murder, have resulted in the hanging of many an innocent person. The prosecuting attorney whose business it is to convict those brought up for trial by the state has only to prove a motive for wishing the deceased out of the way and presence of poison in the stomach to win his case. Another matter strengthens it; that is, proving that the accused bought the poison; though there are instances in which this is not considered absolutely necessary to swing the accused.

"I work largely for attorneys. Bates, Wakeley & Scrimser have given me a lot of work to do, and I have furnished them with facts that have enabled them to win a number of cases. They are criminal lawyers, and most of the evidence I have given them has been used, I am happy to say, to secure the acquittal of persons accused of crime. I don't know anything that gives me more satisfaction than saving an innocent person from punishment.

"One day Mr. Scrimser sent for me and said:

"We have been retained to defend Mrs. Edith Townsend, charged with poisoning her husband, a man she was induced by her parents to marry when she was eighteen years old. Townsend was very rich and a miser. His wife, who is only twenty-four years old, is a beautiful woman. At the time of her marriage she had been engaged to a young man not able to support her,
and she loved him instead of her husband. Her husband's relatives, who would like to secure his property, have worked up the case against her. A note she wrote the man she had been engaged to, Horace Truesdale, telling him she would not see him so long as her husband lived, is all the evidence they have been able to adduce to prove her intimacy with him during her married life. But they have proved that on one occasion a month previous to her husband's death she bought a drug that was found upon analysis in her husband's stomach. She said that when she bought this drug her husband sent her for a prescription the nature of which she knew nothing. I believe that he was taking a drug for a stimulant and that it eventually killed him. Here is the technical name for it." He gave me a slip of paper. "I wish you to discover if he was not in the habit of buying it. Remember that a woman's good name, perhaps her life, depends upon your efforts.

"I went at the matter systematically, first procuring a list of the drug stores within reach of Mr. Townsend's residence. He had lived in his country place surrounded by villages in which there were drug stores. If he wished to conceal the fact of his purchases he had only to drive to one of these towns sufficiently distant that he should not be known there, buy his drug and carry it home himself. Though it was a poison when taken in large quantities, it was prescribed by physicians, and an order for it was not in all cases essential.

"I visited every drug store within a radius of twenty miles from his home and talked with every proprietor and clerk in all of them. Not one of them could remember any person answering to my description of Mr. Townsend, and I declared that no such person had ever to their knowledge visited their store. I hit upon the place where his wife had bought the poison she was charged with having procured, but this had all been worked up by another detective.

"I went to Mr. Scrimser and reported my failure.

"Try the wholesale druggists," he said.

"Why should the man have bought the drug at wholesale? I asked.

"He was mean enough to buy his table salt at wholesale," he replied.

"To make a search of the wholesale drug stores was quite another proposition. It was equivalent to a hunt in every wholesale drug house in the United States, and Mr. Townsend might have bought the drug in Canada. Indeed, if he wished to conceal his purchases Canada would be the better field. I first looked into the express offices, the places where packages might have been delivered to him.
Nothing sent him that could have been a drug appeared on the books of the express companies, nor was any such receipt on file.

"The only hope left for Mrs. Townsend was that her husband had ordered the drug sent by mail. I procured a list of all the wholesale drug houses in the United States and Canada and sent a letter to each asking if they had ever filled orders for the drug found in his stomach, giving also the reason why I wished to know. It was an enormous work to do. It meant the matter up, but since a life might hang upon their efforts nearly all replied that they would make a thorough search.

"Do you know that three different drug houses, two in the United States and one in Canada, wrote me that on several occasions they had sent Townsend pound packages of the drug in question.

"That settled the matter. Mrs. Townsend was discharged."

Where it is applicable and with not much effort before spring, squabs make an excellent building of a spring material.
This was proved by the writer's entire satisfaction some three years ago when a pile of squabs, dried deep on a bed of tender grass, was remained until spring, when an inspection showed that the majority had survived the winter, and this notwithstanding the fact that the winter temperatures in which the writer then lived often reached 20 and 30 degrees below zero.

Baldhead Club

One is being Organized in
a Western City

Perhaps this report is a joke, but one thing is certain a baldhead is no joke to the man who wears it.

A club of baldheads formed in every city in America would be a good thing if its members could be induced to parade hatless, through the main streets of the city.

The writer would suggest that some of the members carry banners with inscriptions of such a character as to warn those who still have hair, that baldness is unavoidable; that in nearly every case it is the result of carelessness.

Banners inscribed as follows would be appropriate:

"We let the dandruff germ do it."

"The time to save the hair is when you have hair to save."

"When we are young, the dandruff germs worked every blessed minute.

They dug our hair out by the roots, and now we aren't in it."

"The best banner of all would be this,
"We didn't use Parisian Sage."

The People's Drug Store sells Parisian Sage for 50 cents a large bottle, so do live druggists everywhere. It is guaranteed to stop falling hair, itching scalp and to destroy dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks, or money back.
